Electrolux Brand Model

OUR PROMISE

So well designed, that the moment is yours

Electrolux exists...

...to design intuitive innovations with intent so your attention stays where it belongs.

We believe in:

A world where no one loses a moment at home on something that could have been designed better.

OUR POSITION IS

Intentional Design

Every detail is considered how it works, how it feels, how it looks and fits in the home. Every choice is deliberate, nothing accidental. Intuitive first, nothing is missing where it matters.

Intention in what we design.
Freedom in how you live.

We create for the Lifestyle Curator

People who have made considered choices about how they want to live. Their home reflects their personality: materials, objects, light.

Nothing is accidental.

They invest in things that belong, not things that impress. For them, an appliance is not a purchase decision. It is a curation decision.

We start from real life at home, not from technology. Innovation only matters when it removes friction from real life.

The Electrolux world

A home that feels curated, considered, and alive. Where everything works intuitively and nothing distracts.

Where design adds balance, not noise, and everything feels right in its place. Space to enjoy it. Every moment, yours.

2. Context & Challenges

A man in a green long-sleeved shirt and dark trousers is leaning over a kitchen counter, loading a dishwasher. The dishwasher is open, showing two racks filled with clean dishes, including plates and glasses. The kitchen has a modern design with dark wood cabinets and a light-colored countertop. In the background, there is a window with a view of greenery and a framed abstract painting on the wall. The overall lighting is soft and natural.

We are looking for an integrated proposal that addresses:

+ How would you structure the agency team for Electrolux for first 90 days of operation?

CASE #2 (COLOMBIA)

LAUNDRY

The challenge for 2027 is to evolve Electrolux's perception from a small brand to a reference in laundry products. Promoting the brand to highlight the differentiation on the category that only Electrolux's can offer to the Colombian consumers.

Category Opportunity

Support 2 new launches in the market:

Laundry portfolio includes Washing machines, wash&dry, dryer, Wash tower.

Care

Consumer Context

Doing laundry is a pain point for consumers and in Colombia the routine is intense and time is short.

Consumers don't want just an equipment. They are looking for practice, trust, care and less effort during the process.

Brand

Electrolux can compete in higher level when connecting portfolio, real benefits and experience – creating a complete proposal for consumers rather than just sell an appliance.

Transform the shopper and daily use experience of the consumer on a driver to create recurrence so that they consider Electrolux on their next purchase.

Territory

Electrolux in Colombia should own a brand territory centered on smart, reliable, and caring solutions, positioning laundry as part of consumers' real lives.

This resonates through both functional benefits, such as efficiency, technology, and convenience, and emotional benefits, including care, comfort, and relief from daily routines.

Enablers

A more complete portfolio creates greater opportunities to compete credibly in the category, increase relevance across price segments, and better address the needs of different consumer profiles.

New launches will represent a significant product upgrade, featuring contemporary design, premium finishes, and technology.

Agency Challenge

How can these category help boost the brand targets for differentiation and improving brand perception?
